SAYS IT ACTED LIKE A CHARM
 Coughs, colds, sore throat or bronchial troubles which persist at this time of the year usually are of an obstinate character. That is all the more reason why a truly reliable remedy like Foley's Honey and Tar Compound should be used. Mrs. Margaret Smith Bishop, Calif., writes: "Foley's Honey and Tar is a grand remedy; more than is claimed for it. I was suffering from a cold last week and used the medicine and it acted like a charm." Contains no opiates. The Lee & Osgood Co.

CALL FOR FARMERETTES RECEIVED

By Local Chairman of Home Service League—Places Matter in Hands of the Farm Bureau—Qualifications For Service and Plan Explained—Groups of Ten For Women's Land Army.

The following announcement has been received by the local chairman of the home economics committee, Miss Louise C. Howe, and contains the complete list of duties and qualifications for any young women who wish to join the newly organized Women's Land Army of America, Connecticut division, and offers to serve as farmerettes during the summer months with a generous compensation and living expenses.

Finding herself unable at the present time, because of press of other business, to give the matter adequate attention, Miss Howe has turned it over to the farm bureau. Enrollments can be made through the bureau. The rules for entrance and necessary qualifications are:

The girls are sent out in groups of ten or more. A chaperon-housekeeper is provided for every ten by the Women's Land Army.

The farmer or community employing a unit provides as follows: Living quarters and the necessary equipment, beds, one blanket, one chair, tables, dining and cooking utensils. The living quarters should have a supply of running water and where possible, a telephone. The application blank must be filled out and signed by the chairman of the local home economics committee and returned to the state chairman.

The girls go out to work from this center in groups of two or more, each receiving $2 a day for an eight-hour day, with transportation to and from work. They are guaranteed pay for five days' work a week. Each worker pays her share towards the household expenses and 50 cents a week toward the salary of the chaperon-housekeeper and their cooking. The chaperon-housekeeper is responsible for the home and the conduct of the girls. One worker is appointed captain of the unit and it is her duty to plan the work and supervise the labor.

The local home economics committee is responsible for the welfare and supervision of the camp. The equipment supplied by each girl consists of one blanket, sheets, pillow, towels, table, overall, soft slippers, heavy low-heeled boots, sun hat, oilskins or water-proof and a lunch box.

The applicants to qualify for farmerettes must be between the ages of 18 and 40 and must pass a physical examination given by a doctor designated by the committee. She must enlist for a period of not less than six months and it is desirable that the period of enlistment be for the season whenever possible.

After three months of satisfactory service (within the state) an armlet will be awarded to each worker in recognition of her service to the state.

JUDGE REED DECIDES HEREDITY LAW CASE

Settles Ownership of Bidwell Hotel Property at South Coventry.

The first hereditary law suit to be tried in the superior court in Tolland county was recently settled by Judge J. H. Reed. The case, involving the April term of the Tolland county superior court.

In the opinion of many lawyers, this was the first hereditary law case to be tried in the state for a number of years.

The suit was brought to determine the ownership of the Bidwell Hotel property at South Coventry. The claimant was Addie I. Ames, executrix of the estate of Lydia Joslin of Coventry and Providence. The plaintiff claimed to own the property by purchase from Sarah Bidwell, in 1881, mother of Charles P. Bidwell of Coventry, the first husband of Mrs. Joslin who owned the property, and at the time of death left no children, no brothers or sisters, but a wife, a mother, Sarah, and two paternal sons, Jane Fitch, grandmother of C. N. Fitch of Rockville, and E. C. Winchester of New London who is conservator for Mary Clark of Windham, the daughter of Amelia Clark Winchester.

C. N. Fitch claimed one-half interest from his grandmother and Mary Clark claimed one-half interest from her mother. The base of the Joslin claim was that she bought her mother's interest in the property. The estate court of Coventry gave her the life use of the property and it was her claim that she now owns the property by purchase.

The defendant claimed that on the death of Charles Bidwell his mother didn't have any claim to the property but that it went to the two paternal sons. Judge Reed decided this to be the true fact in the case and gave judgment in favor of C. N. Fitch and Mary Clark.

The lawyer for the plaintiff was Thomas J. Kelly of Windham and for the defendant were Hon. Charles Phelps and Prosecuting Attorney Thomas F. Noone of Rockville.

WARNING TO ALL

HOARDERS OF SUGAR

Sent to Housewives Who Have Gone Beyond the 15 Pound Limit.

After an examination of thousands of sugar canning certificates sent in by retailers throughout the state, the food administration has found itself vindicated in summarily cutting down the original certificates to a maximum limitation of fifteen pounds. Hundreds of certificates have been found to be in excess of that limit, and some names on the administration records show, as having succeeded in getting fifty pounds or more, are being sent a card containing the following polite warning:

"Your name appears on our records as having purchased on a canning certificate, what appears to be a very ample supply of sugar. In view of the world shortage, we trust you will make a most careful use of the supply you have secured."

The available supply of sugar makes it necessary to limit our ration to three pounds per person per month and the situation will be materially assisted if householders will limit their purchases to small amounts. We feel your own conscience must indicate to you whether or not you are depriving others of their supply by accumulating more than you reasonably need. The technical charge of hoarding may be brought in cases where more than a thirty days supply has been accumulated.

"ROBERT SCOVILLE,"
 "Federal Food Administrator,"
 "Hartford, Conn."

The new canning certificates have a positive sales limitation of 15 pounds for any one canning operation.

HEALING RELIEF FOR TORTURING ECZEMA

The Lee & Osgood Co. has sold hundreds of jars of Hokara, and although they offered to refund the purchase price to any dissatisfied purchaser, not one far has been returned.

While this is surprising in itself, yet the most marvelous thing in the reports of chronic cases of eczema that have been cured by this simple skin food. People who have suffered with scales, scabs and even bleeding itching have found relief in Hokara.

No matter where the eczema, pimples or other breaking out occurs, whether on the face, hands, legs or body, the application of Hokara should give quick relief, and even the worst or most chronic cases should be cured in a short time.

You can buy a liberal-sized jar to-day at the very low price of 35c, and with every package goes The Lee & Osgood Co.'s guarantee to refund the money if it is not satisfactory.

FITCHVILLE

Mrs. John Williams and her two children are visiting Mrs. Nelson Winchester.

There was an attendance of fifteen workers in Palmer hall on Monday evening at the regular Red Cross meeting.

Beswick—Brown.

A pretty wedding took place in Fitchville at the home of the groom on Tuesday, June 19, when Rose L. Brown became the bride of John T. Beswick. The couple entered the parlor as the wedding march was played by Miss Henrietta Authier and took their places beneath an arch of ferns and roses with an American flag suspended from the arch. A Promise Me was sweetly rendered by Miss Julia Authier. The single ring service was used. The ceremony was performed by Rev. B. D. Remington, pastor of the Baptist church at Colchester.

The rooms were prettily decorated with potted plants, ferns and roses. The bride was handsomely gowned in white crepe de chine with veil and wreath of sweet peas. There were about fifty guests present and at the close of the ceremony a banquet was served by the mother of the groom. The bride received many handsome gifts, including silver, china, cut glass, linen and a large sum of money.

The newly married couple left during the evening for a short wedding tour. The bride's traveling suit was of gray, with white hat.

Mr. Beswick has been called to the colors and reported for duty Thursday of last week and left for Vancouver, Wash.

A farewell reception was given them by their many friends of Fitchville in Palmer hall Wednesday evening, who tendered to them their best wishes, together with a substantial sum to give him a well filled kit.

Much credit is due Mrs. Warren Thompson and Mrs. Arthur Chapman for the beautiful decorations.
